Make another piece in the same manner but change the order of the colours, working variegated ridges except next to a variegated band, where dark green should be used instead.

Sew in loose ends, but leave the dark green ends at the cast on and cast off edges. Sew the pieces together for 2cm at the top and bottom using the dark green ends. Make a plaited cord using 6 strands of wool, each about 60cm long. Weave the cord through the eyelets, pull up and tie in a bow. If you think the edges are curling too much, work a row of double crochet (single crochet if you are in the USA or Canada) around the edges.
